

THE SALOON.

What the Great Southern Orator Grady Said About It.

I tell you, if I were to vote to recall bar-rooms to this city when I know it has prospered in their absence, and my boy should fall through their agency, I could not, had I voted to recall those bar-rooms, find answer for my conscience or support for my remorse. Ah, there is no recompense for the tax that is levied upon manhood, upon womanhood, upon the sacred peace of home, upon childhood, upon educational possibilities, upon intellects until they are so dwarfed and stunted that the world will never know the useful invention or the great thoughts they might have given it, and upon hearts until the great philanthropies they might have conceived are never born. A man in ruins! Who can measure the loss in such a catastrophe? When the Duke of Alva was sent to rule the Netherlands he undertook to raise a revenue by degrading his wealthy subjects and confiscating their property. But he soon found that killing the producers was stopping the production. Are we no wiser than to follow the Duke of Alva's example? Have we forgotten that the destruction of wealth-producing possibilities of untold limit and the destruction of intellectual, social and moral influences, for the lack of which all future ages must suffer? Who pays this bill? Direct taxation levies so many mills on the dollar, and wealth bears the heavier part of the burden. But crime lays its heaviest burdens upon the poor women and children by robbing them of their protectors and providers! Pauperism fastens its sharp fangs in the tender home-hearts, around the cold hearthstones in the hovels of the poor! Insanity and physical deformity show where the whiskey demon has struck the brains and bodies of the poor. Burning fever, wasting consumption and foul eruptions are the tribute enacted by the chill and penury and starvation which the saloon has created in the homes of the poor. See that woman in faded gown, and with hollow cheeks and trembling nerves, bending from daylight to dark over the wash tub. She is paying the tax which the saloon levied upon her through the shiftlessness and incompetency of a drunken husband! Who is it then that pays these bills? Those who are least able to pay them. Those over whom you and I ought to stand as protectors; around whom we should throw the guardianship of our manhood and whose pathway we should lighten with no-license ballots!

STATE LAW

Requires School Books to Be of Uniform Series.

State Superintendent Fuqua, in a circular letter addressed to County School Superintendents of Kentucky, calls their attention to a judgment of the Mason Circuit Court for $10,000 against the American Book Company, being the full amount of its bond to counties under the old system, and notifies them that it's necessary, the company refusing to renew this bond, that all counties having such contracts shall cancel them, and at once substitute the books of the State uniform series. The letter, which is of wide interest, is, in full, as follows:

"The Court of Appeals having affirmed a decision of the Mason county Circuit Court against the American Book Company, by which Mason county got a judgment for $10,000, the full amount of said company's bond, under and by authority of which said American Book Company secured the adoption of certain text books for use in the various counties of this State, under the former county adoption law, sections 60 and 61 of the old school book law, the same being sections 4,423 and 4,424 of the Kentucky Statutes, and as said American Book Company refuses to execute a new bond for the continuance of said county adoptions of its text books, now under contract in certain counties (unexpired county adoptions), you are hereby notified that it will be unlawful for the common schools of Commonwealth to continue using, or to permit to be used, any of the text books published by the said American Book Company on any such county adoption contracts, as all such county adoptions are forfeited by said company by its refusal to execute a new bond for the continuance of such county adoptions, the provisions of the law relative to such county adoptions being as follows:

"Upon the failure or refusal of any such publisher or person to comply with the provisions of this act within the time herein specified, the text books of such publisher or person selling the same shall be removed from the common schools of any and every county by the County Board thereof in which the same have been adopted. [Kentucky Statutes, Section 4,424.]

"It will therefore be required of all counties having such contract for text books published by the American Book Company to discontinue their use from and after this date and substitute for such books the corresponding books of the State uniform series. The penalties for using other books than the State series, except such as are under legal contract, and upon the County School Book Commission and teachers, the former being liable to a fine of from $100 to $500 and the latter (teacher) cannot draw salary while using other books than those under legal State or county contract. This applies only to the publications of the American Book Company at present. Other suits are pending against other companies and you will be advised on the conclusion of these. The Court of Appeals holds that only one recovery can be made against any one company, and such recovery shall be for the full amount of the bond. Mason county has been awarded the amount of the American Book Company's bond and other suits against it will be useless. JAR. H. FUQUA, SR.,

The Gossiper.

The town scandal monger receives this reprimand from the Hartford Herald:

There are, perhaps, in almost every community a few specimens of that enemy of peaceful society known as the pernicious gossip or defamer—male and female. The man habitually speaks slightly or slanderously of the female sex has his prototype in the woman who delights to gossip about her townpeople—and sometimes her kinsfolks—and never finds better enjoyment than when in a crowd of females of her own personal predilections. Seemingly lacking those charitable instincts of character which accord to every man and every woman the common errors of life and weaknesses of personal make-up, they pounce upon the un-

Cutting Potatoes for Seed.

In cutting seed potatoes take the potato in the left hand with the stem end toward you. If it is large, cut off a good-sized piece with two or three eyes. Revolve the potato to the right and keep cutting off about the same size pieces, finishing the potato by splitting the seed end. Cut potatoes as you want to use them, and after they are cut, never expose to the sun or air to dry out.

If you can not use them immediately, pour out on damp ground in the shade of trees or building, and cover with a blanket. Seed the least bit dry comes up slower, blights easily, and yields lighter, just in proportion as it is dried out. To cut seed, use a kitchen knife ground down narrow and thin, so that the

The Rhode Island Reds for the Farm.

I have kept poultry for a good many years, in both large and small numbers, and under most all conditions. Until two or three years ago the Barred Plymouth Rock was my ideal fowl, but after giving the Rhode Island Reds a thorough trial, I find them superior as a general purpose fowl to anything I have ever raised. And this breed is becoming the one poultry coat that passes current all over this part of the country, and in many sections of the New England States there is scarcely any other breed to be found: their beautiful color, good size and quiet disposition, combined with their great laying qualities has won for them many admirers. I find them less inclined to become over-fat than most of our other breeds of this class. During the past four years I have kept Barred and White Plymouth Rocks and Leghorns right by the side of the item, here again is where the Reds come in as an excellent farm breed. Yet with many poultry keepers there are other breeds that suit them better. One feature that is favorable to the Leghorn for the farm, and that is they are among the very best foragers.

I am not one of those poultry raisers who insist that there is just one really, good breed, for I know there are others, but the Rhode Island Reds have proven themselves with me to be a most excellent, general purpose fowl, and I believe are the closest rivals that the non-setting breeds have.—V. M. Couch, in Poultry Advocate.

Reds, the latter of the four having the smallest quarters, yet for the year they have outclassed the others in every way.

I note that a great many people look at the Reds as a mongrel breed, but not so at all, they are in fact one of our oldest breeds, and are bound to become popular all over the country in a few years. However this does not prove that there are not many other handsome breeds, and I might say breeds that are better suited for some to keep than the Reds. The farmer for instance, who keeps from one to two hundred hens and allows them to run all over the premises: a fowl that is quick and spry like the Leghorn or Minorca, so as to keep out of the way of the hogs and other stock, I believe is better adapted to the occasion than one of the moderate going kind. The farmer who allows his poultry to run free, wants a breed that will take exercise enough to keep them from getting too fat and here is where the Reds lay over the rocks, and also, where the Leghorns are superior to many other breeds. Then with most farmers, eggs are the all important

IT LOOKS THAT WAY.

The ADVOCATE reporter saw Judge Paynter Saturday. His course was towards Louisville. To our query, "Judge Paynter, do you think you will defeat Senator Blackburn?" said: "I most certainly do." And it looks that way.

ANOTHER ENTERPRISE.

Mr. John W. Sprague has moved here from Catlettsburg and has rented the McKee building, corner of Bank and Locust streets, in which he will operate a broom-factory. Mr. Sprague expects to install the business with 15 men and will add to this number as his business grows. A hearty welcome is extended Mr. Sprague, and our merchants have done the proper thing in their promise to take his entire output. He will start with capacity of 20 dozen brooms per day.

A SUGGESTION.

At this time when manufacturers are looking for locations, our citizens who meet with them should see that they are turned over to some enthusiastic member of the Business Men's Club. We are prompted to this suggestion by this fact: A few days ago Mr. Sprague was here with the view of locating; he had been to several points and was more favorably impressed with Mt. Sterling than any of them, but no one he met seemed interested in him or his business, and he had decided to leave the city when by chance he met with Judge McKee, who learned from him his business and said if it is a manufacturing plant you propose to establish and you think this is the place I will fix the location for you, you may fix the price, and if you should need money at any time in your business I will see that you get it, and it was in this way Mr. Sprague was provided with a location, and in a few days he will be distributing $25.00 per week through his force of laborers. No manufacturer should be permitted to leave the town if it can in any way be made to his interest to stay. It is the hum of machinery from many little plants that makes the stir that inspires men to greater undertakings.

IN TROUBLE.

It was Senator J. C. S. Blackburn who said he had been approached by a friend of the Administration with a compromise proposition, and now some unkind editor calls the turn by demanding the name of the person who conveyed the proposition. It is evident the Senator has seen the drift of things and the corner towards which he is pointed.

If the Senator would bring about a reconciliation between his little machine and that enormous organization he denominates "the machine" it can be brought to pass only through friends. Now is the time he should talk through one of his interpreters.

LET'S HEAR FROM YOU.

When the people of Montgomery set out tomato plants, grove beans and corn, it would be best that they consider the probability of a cannery locating at this place. We are in correspondence with a concern now that would locate here if assured there would be grown large crops of vegetables and fruits sufficient to supply the demand occasioned by such a plant. Our women usually claim garden products, and if a sufficient number will direct postal cards to THE MT. STERLING ADVOCATE giving the size of crop each proposes to raise this year, it would be of material value in securing the plant.

Now let's hear from the men and women who would give support to this way to such an enterprise. We would have those interested to be prompt in their response to this article that the Business Men's Club may take the matter up with the company and close a deal to bring them here.

Never in the history of Mt. Sterling was there a more favorable time for buying and improving building lots. The city is on a conservative boom. Last week we noted eleven residences and business houses going up, and this week we are making mention of the installment of two manufacturing plants that begin with twenty-five working men, these adding to our pay rolls about $250 per week. In addition to these there is the probability of locating a cannery with thirty laborers and a pay roll of $270 per week, and a handle factory with a weekly pay roll of about $2,000. Such a showing, with 200 laborers and their families, is evidence for immediate demand for residences. In Mt. Sterling are numerous sites for the average buildings, but lots for the best homes are scarce. The most desirable lots for the most modern homes are those offered by A.

Hoffman & Son on North Mayville street, a part of the Col. Thomas Johnson tract. These are beautiful lots, on the most popular resident street in the city, with the most desirable surroundings. We are calling attention to this sale, which takes place here on next Saturday afternoon, for the reason that we want the patrons of the ADVOCATE to have an opportunity to secure one or more of these desirable building sites, which is certain to prove to be a valuable investment.

HASN'T CONSENTED—WILL HE?

Some of the good citizens of Clark county are suggesting the name of County Democratic Committeeman, Lee Baldwin, for the Democratic nomination for State Senator and should Mr. Baldwin permit the use of his name in the race he would be a spirited runner and if nominated would be elected and if elected would be in company with the leaders in that body. Mr. Baldwin is a Blackburn man and would make a keen race.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

And C. W. B. M. Conventions of Eighth Kentucky District.

The above conventions met at the Christian Church on Thursday and Friday, April 27th and 28th, 1905. The district is composed of Bath, Bourbon, Clark, Harrison, Montgomery and Nicholas.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

W. S. Willis, President, having moved to Ironton, O., P. F. King, of Millersburg, Vice President, presided. B. W. Trimble is Secretary. R. M. Hopkins, State Sunday School Evangelist, conducted the singing.

The first address was by C. J. Armstrong.

Rev. H. D. Clark spoke words of cordial welcome. Kyle Brooks, of Lexington, responded.

S. S. Offutt, R. M. Hopkins and C. W. Dick addressed the convention. After appointment of committees came adjournment for dinner. All delegates and visitors were entertained at the homes for two days.

AFTERNOON.

B. W. Trimble, District Statistician, made his report. In the district are 49 schools. Reports had been received from 27 and one report sent failed to come. During the year the average attendance of each school was nearly 61; average collection nearly 88c. Of these 19 met 12 months in the year, one 10 months, four 9 months, one 8 months and two 6 months; 19 observed Children's Day and 14 Rally Day. Only three schools reported Teachers' Meeting. One has Home Department. Paris has largest average attendance 175, and largest Children's Day offering, $203.65.

H. W. Elliott gave many interesting facts about Kentucky Missions.

Judge W. T. Lafferty, a prominent lawyer of Cynthiana, was to speak at 2:30 but, was delayed, as Gains failed to connect at Winchester. He and Rev. E. U. Ellis, of Cynthiana, and five lady delegates drove through from Winchester.

Carl L. Long, a farmer, and Superintendent Indian Creek school, in Harrison county, told of some difficulties of the Country Sunday School.

EVENING.

E. J. Willis, of Carlisle, gave the Supreme Need of the Sunday School. W. J. Wright, of Cincinnati, used a large map in his talk on Home Missions. Preceding this address Mrs. Princess Long, of Paris, sang a melody of National airs.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The officers for next year are: President, P. F. King, Millersburg; Vice President, E. J. Willis, Carlisle; Secretary and Statistician, B. W. Trimble.

The next convention will be held at Cynthiana. Delegates and visitors (to include people from our county), more than 75.

The convention was, for a district, largely attended, and in excellence compared favorably with a State Convention.

The Committee on Future Work asked that the Secretary visit the schools in the district.

Delegates attended from each county, except from Bath. We hope Bath will do better next year.

Mt. Sterling school reported average attendance 195; gave on Children's Day, $65; Rally Day, $50; State Work, $25. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and blooming plants. Pastors were present from Cynthiana, Millersburg, Carlisle, North Middletown, Winchester, Mt. Zion in Clark, Concord in Nicholas. Preachers for 18 congregations of the 27 schools reported live in Lexington.

C. W. B. M.

This convention met on Friday morning. District Manager, Mrs. A. G. Wornall, of Paris, presided.

Mrs. P. F. King, of Carlisle, was Secretary.

Mrs. J. B. Minogue, of Carlisle, conducted the devotional service and made a short talk.

Mrs. Amelia Young in a few well chosen words welcomed the convention to our city.

THE WELCOME.

Some one has said that "Brevity is the soul of wit" and it is with words as with sunbeams the more condensed the deeper they burn, and, it is with fewest words of deepest meaning we would bring to you our welcome. Welcome is a clear ringing word, full of the souls music from the joy of repeating and if every letter of this beautiful word was coined from our hearts finest gold and every golden letter set with the priceless jewels of the love of Christ which constraineth us and framed about with the beautiful flowers of love, joy and sweet communion it would be our tribute to you.

The gates of our city; the doors of our churches, our homes, our hearts are spread wide and bid you come in and possess.

Our greetings come to you with a two-fold meaning—first, that we together may more fully emphasize our devotion to Him in whose name we meet; second, we are a band of christian women enlisted under the conquering banner of a crucified Savior in whose work we together plan and pledge a more earnest consecration and we trust that there may grow forth from this convention a clarion note of no discordant sound of something accomplished, something done, and that we have been sowers and reapers and gleams in the great harvest so white and waiting; and in our Father's business we have not been dreamers and drifting; for

We are not here to dream and drift.

We have work to do—we have loads to lift.

Mrs. E. J. Willis, of Carlisle, made response. A platform conference participated in by men was conducted by C. W. Dick, assisted by C. J. Armstrong, E. J. Ellis, R. M. Hopkins, P. F. King, Mrs. M. S. Walden, of Danville, gave report of Children's Work. There are 14 auxiliaries, which raised $2,419.67. There are seven Young Peoples' societies. Committees were appointed.

AFTERNOON.

Praise Service was led by Mrs. C. H. Meng, North Middletown. Miss Ida May Dulaney, of the Bethlehem Clark county school, made a strong plea for more efficient District Work.

Miss Fannie Ingles, of Paris, reviewed the history of Hazel Green Academy.

Mrs. E. W. McDiarmid, on behalf of Morehead Academy, told of what had been done during the past year, especially along lines of religious activity. From the Academy there have been 52 additions to the church during the year.

Mrs. M. G. Thomson, of Paris, read a paper, "Kindling Lights in India." It will appear in our columns. This was followed by a solo, "India, Sad India," by Mrs. Princess Long.

Committees reported.

The next convention goes to Cynthiana and on day following Sunday School Convention.

Delegates and visitors reported,

73.

Officers for next year: District Manager, Mrs. A. G. Wornall; County Managers—Bath, Mrs. C. W. Goodpaster; Bourbon, Mrs. Sallie Pullen; Clark, Miss Mary B. Henderson; Harrison, Mrs. Cora Haviland; Nicholas, Mrs. James Hughes; Montgomery, Mrs. Amelia Young.

Among the servants of the Lord who have entered into heavenly rest are, from the Mt. Sterling congregation, Mrs. H. D. Clark and Mrs. Georgia Turner. There were 12 others.

EVENING.

Praise service was led by Mrs. Cora Haviland.

The address of the evening was by Mrs. A. M. Harrison, of Lexington, State President. All who have heard her know of her marked ability, and fluency and accuracy as a thinker and speaker.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mrs. Sarah Yancey, of Lexington, State Secretary, was present.

Usually an offering is taken at close of such meetings, but none was this time.

Mrs. Jnd. Robinson's solo at the morning session, "Beautiful Dream," was executed with much pathos, sweetness and skill.

A rich treat came to the audience from Mrs. Princess Long during these two days, as many times she charmed us with her powers of song. She has a national reputation. Some of her charms are cheerful response to invitation, modesty and attractive personality.

Turning aside from the daily routine of a busy life to these religious assemblies with fraternal greetings and uplift of thought and aspiration is a blessing and rare privilege.

Let this imperfect review of those days suffice till we meet again.

Dr. William VanAntwerp, M. A. WeeCon, C. H. Petry, Dr. C. W. Harris, E. W. Hall, C. C. Turner, C. T. Hazelrigg and J. C. Cooper have returned from a 12-days outing on the Cumberland. Fine sport and a good catch. The largest bass caught weighed from 4 1/2 to 5 pounds.

Names of Those Who Fell to be Enshrined.

With elaborate ceremony, beginning Wednesday and ending Friday, the names of 30,866 soldiers and sailors of the Japanese killed prior to the battle of Mukden, will be enshrined in the Spokosha Temple. Many kinsmen and kinswomen assembling in Tokio to participate in the ceremony will be special guests of the government.

Banks Sued at Danville.

A. M. Harrison, revenue agent for the State-at-large, has filed three suits against the Danville banks for back taxes for the years 1901-2-3-4 for the sum of $175,070 each, the Boyle National, the Farmers' National and the Citizens' National Banks. Taxes are asked on the aggregate amount of $2,100,000, with the additional 20 per cent for the agent which is allowed by law.

Attempt to Destroy Boys' Dormitory at Georgetown.

On last Wednesday an attempt was made to burn the Seminary building of Georgetown College now occupied by the boys as one of their dormitories. Hay had been stuffed under sleepers and then set on fire. The fire was extinguished before much damage had been done. This attempt at burning followed several attempts to destroy by fire Rucker Hall, a dormitory for girls.

Big Reunion for Kentucky University.

One of the most important movements in the history of Kentucky University was inaugurated when it was decided to have a reunion of all old students, alumni and others, during commencement week in June.

BIG OUTDOOR DINNER.

The feature of the reunion will be a dinner held on the lawn at Grand Park. Four prominent men will make addresses.

Arrangements will also be made for the entertainment of visitors. Hundreds will be entertained as guests in the various homes of the city, while others will be taken care of at the hotels.

It is the desire of the organization to see the names of old students of the college.

Old students will write to President B. A. Jenkins, Lexington.

Didn't Sell.

Because the Barnes Heights lots were not bid near their value, Mr. Barnes withdrew them. The bids aggregated $7,055, and when put up as a whole were bid to $6,630. The property is easily worth double this amount and of course Mr. Barnes would not permit it to be sold. Since the day for sale Mr. Barnes has been offered at an advance, but it will not be sold unless it brings its full value.

Geo. E. Coleman, G. L. and Chas. Kirkpatrick, H. R. French, Wm. Lloyd, Joe Kemper, T. H. Grubbs, Wm. Phelps and others are spending some days at their camp on Slate creek.

Will Nominate a Full Ticket.

THE MAN WITH $10

Can get a better suit here than any place in the world and here is a reason: We fully understand that hundreds of men feel like that "ten" is enough. We know there are a great many of $10-suit buyers, and that they want the same style and wear as the man who pays a longer price. The trade on $10-suits is a great factor in the volume of business.

We are showing fifty different patterns in $10 Suits in six separate and distinct styles, made with big broad shoulders, hair cloth fronts, long and medium cut sacks, large or small hip trousers, with belt strap and straps on side to give snug fit when wearing a belt. Some of these suits have turn-up trousers, some have not. We show plain blues, plain browns, plain greys, plain blacks, fancy scotches in plaids, stripes and invisible plaids to fit any man

If you only want to spend $10 for a suit, come here; you will notice the great resemblance our $10 suits bear the better grades. No trouble to show you, and your money back if purchase is not satisfactory.

BLUE JEANS, JR.

A new combination of two of the leading saddle horse families of Kentucky. Blue Jeans and Dillard Dudley. This season only BLUE JEANS, JR., will be permitted to make the season at the low sum of $3.00 To Insure a Living Colt.

DESCRIPTION.—BLUE JEANS, JR., is a seal brown, with black legs, mane and tail, 15 1/2 hands high, combined the weight of the heavy harness horse with the neatness and finish of the Kentucky saddle horse. He is a horse of more than ordinary intelligence, and has a disposition of the very best. It is no longer a speculation as to what he will do. His colts are here as evidence of his great breeding qualities.

FEEDING.—BLUE JEANS, JR., sired by old Blue Jeans, he by General Taylor (reference to National Saddle Horse Registry), 1st dam by Lewis Dillard Dudley and by Haines' Crockett. We believe this combination of two of the best known families of saddle horses will produce for Blue Jeans, Jr., a name and reputation that will be one of the brightest in the history of Kentucky saddle horse.

Also at the same time and place will be found two of the best Mule Jacks in the State.

A colt will be retained on all colts gotten by the above stock until service fee is paid. Money due when colt is foaled and in all cases when the mare is parted with or bred elsewhere. Gross furnished at reasonable prices and special care taken of mare from a distance. 41-41 Stables positively closed on Sunday.

LOCOMOTIVE DEVELOPMENT Immense Increase in Size of Railway Engines in the Last Ten Years.

Leaving out narrow gauge, switching and other light engines, there were 29 American locomotives in 1893 having an average weight of 123,553 pounds. At the St. Louis exposition there are 29 American locomotives having an average weight of 195,239 pounds, reports the World To-Day. At Chicago the total weight of the heaviest locomotive was 195,000 pounds. This was criticized for excessive weight, and the general opinion was that it was the limit. At St. Louis the average is greater than the heaviest at Chicago, the heaviest being 393,012 pounds (light weight engine and tender). This is a mountain climber which is yet an experiment. The next heaviest weighs 287,589 pounds, and there are six others weighing over 200,000 pounds each. The total weight of the 29 largest locomotives shown at St. Louis is 5,903,425 pounds. The heaviest engine at Chicago was exceptional, weighing 28,000 pounds more than the next heaviest, which in turn weighed 13,000 pounds more than the next. Perhaps it would be fairer to omit the heaviest at St. Louis as being entirely exceptional, a sporadic case. We would then have the average weight at St. Louis of 183,176 pounds, as against an average of 128,553 in Chicago, an increase of about 46 per cent. If the Malet compound is included in the comparison the increase has been over 50 per cent.

Chinese Official Methods.
In China they do things differently. The governor of a province in which a missionary was murdered has been notified that he must produce the murderers within ten days or bring his own head along on a charger. This method would insure a strict enforcement of law anywhere, were it not for the simple expedient adopted by the Chinese official. He chops off a couple of heads and sends them to Peking by express with a message saying that the skulls once belonged to the murderers and an assurance of his unwavering loyalty to the throne.—Portland Oregonian.

SPRING CATARRH. Changeable Weather Causes Dis- ease. Breathe Hyomei and Cure Catarrh.

The changeable weather of Spring, with its warm days and cold nights, is responsible for a great increase in the number of cases of catarrh. It is now that Hyomei, the only guaranteed treatment for catarrh that cures without stomach dosing, should be used in every home.

Hyomei is a scientific method by which pure air impregnated with Nature's own remedies for the cure of catarrh, can be inhaled by every sufferer in his or her home. Breathed through the nasal pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its healing, volatile, antiseptic fragrance reaches the lungs and air passages as no stomach dosing possibly can do. It gives immediate relief and makes lasting cures.

Proof that the Hyomei treatment will do all that is claimed for it is found in the guarantee under which W. S. Lloyd sells it, an agreement to pay back the price, if the purchaser can say that Hyomei has not given satisfaction. Complete outfit $1.00; extra bottles 50c.

War Reverting to Its Primitive Aspects.

No wise man supposes that war is about to die a natural death. A few years ago the late M. de Bloch wrote some clever books about the effect of quick-firing guns and long-range repeating rifles. According to him, war had been rendered impossible. M. Bloch's views were exploded by the South African war, and by the still more dramatic incidents of the war in the far East. To men like the Japanese samurai, nurtured in the traditions of the knightly spirit of Bushido, there are no bullet-swept impassable zones. In no previous wars have intrenchments been so often so successfully stormed. Napoleon does not record the capture of so many batteries under the regime of Brown Bess as are recorded since the modern rifle was invented. War has become more brutal. It is reverting to its primitive aspects. Germany to-day represents war, and Germany must be strictly watched and checked. The expansion of the German population, the impossibility of extension southwards, eastwards or westwards, necessitates the capture either of Holland or of colonies or of both. Before the manifest destiny of Germany to collide with England, anti-Russian prejudices ought to disappear, and the British public should narrowly examine its antipathy to Russia and sympathy to the Japanese, who hesitated so cautiously as to whether their movement for expansion should be made in the direction of Korea, Indo China or Australia.—North American Review.

Declamatory Contest.

The Fifth Annual Contest of the Mt. Sterling High School took place Friday night. It was one of the most enjoyable programs ever rendered by the school.

After the usual dead and weary moments of suspense, the audience was at last brought to "life" by Miss Mary Rogers Chiles, who in her inimitable style captivated the entire house. She may feel well rewarded for the energy and perseverance she has shown in her work, by the complimentary manner in which she is always received by the public.

At the close of this selection, "The Death of Lafayette" was presented by John Carmody in a masterly style.

Edmond Wells held the audience breathless while he recited "The Soul of the Violin" in a creditable manner.

Jacob Hedden next carried us to a "Scene on the Battle Field." His portrayal of this grave conviving portrait of the elements of a future orator.

From "The Soul of the Violin," "Life," "Death," and the "Battle Field," "Sally Ann's Experience," by Miss Nettie Hadden, calmed the crowd, so much so, that it was difficult, to keep the rest of the "Sally Ann's" from rising up and telling what they knew of man.

Miss Eula Perry, with the modesty and charm of a school girl gave her selection "From a Far Country," which was received with hearty applause.

Lillian and Lodema Wood were successfully awarded the DeWagenaere gold medal. Their voices showing an improvement since their last appearance as did also the two girls, the latter showing the great care and excellent training that had been given them.

Miss Mary Lockridge's rich contralto voice was a surprise to her many friends, she has a powerful voice, which with given cultivation will place her among the artists.

Our program would not be complete without mention of our little friend, Master Dyke Duty, who sang "Jasper Johnson, shame on you," with as much originality, as he expressed at the table, when he did not care to have "Thanks Returned," because there was no "Maple Flakes."

Our Public School is indebted to Father DeWagenaere for the great interest manifested in this contest. He has been not only liberal with his time and talents but showed his generosity of spirit by awarding a medal to each of the successful contestants in the duet, and also to the young lady who won in declamation.

Mrs. Jepson, one of the standbys and has ever been ready to "fall in" and help out, often at her own inconvenience.

We are grateful to all, and like

MASTIC MIXED PAINT

Can't be Touched

For painting houses. The reason's plain. Mastic is the purest, therefore the most durable and economical. There is a whole string of "other fellows" claiming "just as good as Mastic." But they don't prove it. They say they can't. The analysis of Mastic is published. It's made of pure lead, zinc and linseed oil—the most durable kind of paint—and its purity is therefore unquestioned.

As purity means durability, the splendid wearing qualities of Mastic have given it the title of "The Kind That Lasts," and this title is backed up by our absolute guarantee.

Mastic is made by PEARLE-GAUBERT CO. Louisville, Ky.

And we heartily recommend it to our trade.

DEATHS.

WOODS.—Edward Woods, a contractor, of Paris, Ky., aged 85 years, died Thursday.

HORINE.—John Horine and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Horine, died at Lexington. Their funeral services were held at the same time on Saturday in St. Paul's Church.

WARSON.—Coleman Watson died suddenly on Thursday at Mancelona, Mich., of meningitis. He left here recently to engage in business there. He is the brother of Henry Watson, of our city.

ABINGTON.—In New York City on Wednesday, April 26, 1905, Mrs. Bellora Arrington died at the home of her daughter. The burial was in St. Louis on Saturday. She was the mother of Mrs. Gano Johnson, of this county.

HASZELGRO.—Henry Haszelgro, aged 25 years, died at Lexington on Tuesday, April 25, 1905. The burial was in this city on Wednesday. He was the son of Mrs. Jno. Tom Haszelgro, of this city, now living at Ford, Ky.

ROSS.—On April 27 Ed. Ross died at his home in Knoxville, Tenn. His wife was Miss Jessie Bosworth who a number of years ago moved from this city to Knoxville. Mr. Ross was taken suddenly ill on Wednesday and died on Thursday.

WILLS.—At her home, on Salt Lick, near where she has spent 64 years of her life, Mrs. Anna Wills, wife of Henry Wills, departed this life on Tuesday afternoon, April 25, at 3 o'clock, after suffering for 14 weeks with cancer of the stomach. She was born in Brown county, Ohio, on October 11, 1835 hence was in the 70th year of her life. At the age of 19 she united with the Presbyterian church and has always lived for Jesus and the good she could do to others. Aunt Anna, as she was familiarly known by all, was a generous, free hearted neighbor and friend, a kind and loving mother, a dearly loved grand-mother and a devoted wife. Her comforting hand was always extended with love and kindness to all in their trials and sufferings. She was free from prejudice and favoritism, and her effort to all be the either friend or stranger. She will be greatly missed, not only by her aged husband, who with slow and faltering steps and tear dimmed eyes is slowly traveling down the western slope of life, and her loving children but by all who knew her. On December 12, in the year of 1861, in her childhood home in Brown county, Ohio, she was united in marriage to Mr. Henry Wills. To this union 9 children were born, 7 of whom are now living. The two little boys who died in infancy, will welcome dear mother in heaven. This is the first death in the family in 35 years. Knowing death was fast approaching she had no fear for she knew she would soon be with her Saviour and her sufferings would be over. Her last request was: "Do not cry or weep for me, for I will be free from pain and at rest." The funeral services were conducted at the home on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Bro. W. R. Hunt, of Salt Lick, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Wills grave yard.

Base-Ball.

Monday afternoon saw what was undoubtedly the best game of the season at Riddle's Park so far. The Mt. Sterling High School team gained a hard won victory. Things were very dark for Mt. Sterling during the first half of the game, the score standing five to nothing in favor of M. M. I. until the sixth inning when the High School team ran in two scores. From this time on Mt. Sterling improved, preventing the M. M. I. team from running its score up, and gradually pushed their own up to four in the eighth. M. M. I. came in and three outs were counted as fast as the men got to the bat. Mt. Sterling's time now came. The crowd was beginning to think of the possibility of another thirteen inning game, but in a few minutes Mt. Sterling ran in the two necessary scores and M. M. I. went down to the tune of 5 to 6.
